

Do you need some extra help with your thesis or project?

NBN

With the Edu-portal you've got it. This handy online platform for students gives you free access to more than 40.000 company and technology standards to take your project to the next level!

But wait, what exactly are standards?

Company and technology standards are an answer to the following question: "What's the best way to do this?"

Three good reasons to use standards:

For support: give your thesis or project a quality boost with this extra guidance!

Always up-to-date: Company and technology standards always provide the latest know-how and expertise in your field of expertise.

Career boost: people who go on to work with company and technology standards get a valuable head start!

Ok, let's go! I want to use standards. But how?

Scan this QR code and log in with the account of your college or university. This gives you instant access to all company and technology standards.
